WEATHER PROBABILITIES.—For this section fair tonight and Wednesday; light northerly winds, becoming southerly.

U. D. C.—Mary Curtis Lee Chapter, U. D. C., met this morning at Lee Camp hall and perfected arrangements for entertaining the delegates of the Virginia division, U. D. C., which meets in this city next week.

The Seventeenth Virginia Regiment Chapter met this morning and perfected arrangements for the coming State convention next week. The committee in charge of the work reported they had met with most prompt and hearty responses by the citizens of our city and felt much encouraged. The work was gone over in detail and the chapter desired to meet the Mary Curtis Lee Chapter, they asked them to meet the Seventeenth Virginia next Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the residence of Miss Lulu Smoot, corner S. Asaph and Duke streets. Badges for the chapter can be procured next Monday and Tuesday at 525 King street. The following resolutions were presented by Miss Margaret Smith, and while approved, no action could be taken, owing to the constitution of the U. D. C.:

Whereas, we, daughters, sisters and wives of soldiers who fought in the armies of the Confederacy, desiring to put in enduring form some evidence of our affection for WILLIAM MCKINLEY, late Chief Magistrate of the United States of America, and to assist in raising a monument commemorative of our high appreciation of his character, while in life as a patriot or in death as a martyr; and aware of his worth as a citizen, his greatness as a statesman and his generosity as a foe; our deep admiration for his devotion as a son and his unfaltering loyalty as a husband, and last but not least for his fatherly protection of the whole country, as its President untrammelled by sectional lines and party ties:

And whereas, it was the aim and desire of his great and noble heart that the North and South once combating in fraternal war, should better understand each other and enjoy the blessings of peace and happiness flowing from a united and harmonious country:

And whereas, we, women of the South, acknowledging his great services and responding to the generous and lofty spirit which animated him, and earnestly wishing that the efforts of a patriotic people should be blended together and employed in erecting a monument at the national capital consecrated to his memory:

Therefore be it resolved by the 17th Virginia Regiment Chapter, U. D. C., that the sum of $500 be raised and appropriated for the purpose aforesaid.

Second, That a copy of these resolutions be delivered by the delegates from this chapter to the conference of the Virginia Division of the U. D. C. to be held at Alexandria, Va., October 9th, 1901, with the request that it recommend similar action to be taken by all chapters of our Order in this Commonwealth, and that through proper officers copies of these resolutions shall be transmitted to the several Divisions in our Sister States and Territories urging corresponding steps by all chapters of the U. D. C. throughout the land, to the end that there may be generous and united action in the premises.

Third, That a special fund be opened to receive the various contributions for this object by the chief officer of each State and Territory, said contributions to be forwarded to the President of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which officer shall in turn hand over to the Treasurer of the McKinley Monument Fund, Washington, D. C., in the name of our organization all monies received by her for this purpose not later than January 1st, 1902.

Fourth, That the Delegates to the Conference, from this Chapter, who shall present these resolutions, shall forward a hand-written engraved copy of the same to the McKinley, widow and child of our late beloved President, that she may know as he enjoyed our confidence and respect as he in the hour of distress and sorrow possesses the sympathy of her sisters in the South.

These resolutions, whilst they form a suitable testimonial of regard for our lamented President, William McKinley, also go a step further in emphasizing the noble mission of woman in seeking to promote "Peace on Earth and Goodwill towards men," and of demonstrating that one of the motives of this patriotic society is to keep alive the flame upon the altar of our once divided but now happily reunited country.

MEET THE COMMITTEE.—Property owners (or their representatives) on Alfred street, between King and Queen, and one on King, between Union and the Strand met the committee on streets at the office of the City Engineer last night. These interested in the proposed improvement on Alfred street were practically unanimous in their desire for a vitrified brick roadway and for parking in front of their property. It was their desire that a twenty-four foot roadway and an eight-foot pavement be constructed and that six feet on each side of the street be reserved for parking. Mr. M. B. Harlow, who will practically pay one-third of the property owners' portion on the square from King to Cameron, spoke in favor of the above-described plan and explained the manner in which most of the streets could be improved without the outlay many supposed and on terms which would not burden the city with obligations.

There was one protest against the improvement of King street from Union to the river. Mr. J. B. Padgett, manager of the Washington Steamboat Company, announced the willingness of the corporation he represents to enter into the improvement of that half square. The committee will report ordinances to Council providing for the improvement of both that part of King street and the two squares on Alfred street.

RELEASED.—William R. Pulman, of Fairfax county, who was detained at the police station because he had a team in his possession which belonged to W. P. Clark, of Woodbridge, has been released. The team was turned over to Mr. Clark, its owner. Pulman, it will be remembered, claimed that he had traded a horse and buggy with a colored man near Woodbridge for the team found in his possession.

MEETING.—The annual meeting of the M. A. Winter Chapter was held at No. 219 Duke street, when the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: M. A. Winter, president; Richard Young, vice president; T. H. McKee, secretary and treasurer; and these, with Samuel Artz, directors.

BEATING THE SLOT MACHINES.

Four individuals from Washington appeared in this city last night and visited a number of saloons in which slot machines are operated. In some public houses the "chips" are redeemed with money; in others the winners are compelled to take out their gains in merchandise. The quartette visited one saloon and dropped some "slugs" (pieces of steel the exact size of nickels) into the machine and when they succeeded in making the contrivance discharge they gathered in the "pot" and asked the proprietor to cash the chips. This he refused to do and they took the amount in cigars. They visited other places where they had their winnings cashed. Two of the Washingtonians later entered Mr. William Cox's saloon, southeast corner of Cameron and Fayette streets, and in order to divert suspicion purchased some of the regulation brass checks. They went to the machine, but instead of placing the chips in the slots they dropped the steel pieces in them, which resemble nickels, either of which can be used. The proprietor became suspicious and, walking to the machine, saw what the strangers were doing. He immediately locked the door and sent to the local depot for Special Officer Hardin, who took charge of the two men. Upon reaching the station house they gave their names as John H. Bryan and Charles Schepach. The former acted insolent toward the officer in charge when about to be locked up. This morning they were brought before the Mayor on a charge of defacing property, as it was alleged that the slugs deranged the mechanism of the machines. The prisoners, neither of whom seemed to be out of his teens, made no defense, and they were fined $20 each—$10 for defacing property and $10 for trespassing. The mayor said they were guilty of a serious act of swindling and told them if the fines were not paid they would be put on the chain gang.

She had been visiting friends and was returning to her home when the negro ran up and grabbed her purse. She fought with him, but he threw her roughly to the street, at the same time wrenching the pocket-book from her grasp. It contained $3. Miss Conry was severely injured. INSPECTING THE CITY.—The members of the Board of Health, accompanied by Dr. E. A. Gorman, Health Officer, yesterday afternoon made an inspection of the city.
